TRANSITING PLUTO SEXTILE NATAL NORTH NODE

Pluto is a powerful agent of transformation and change. There is a degree of power involved in these areas of life that under this aspect are now subject to transformational evolution. Pluto's action is decisive and integrative. It insists that past awareness and a new way of movement is to be integrated into your life. Letting go of what used to be is essential so that the new that is seeking alignment can activated. It is almost impossible not to advance as the flow of change is upon you.

The North Node in Astrology is the path forward in life, and although, especially in the early stages of development, not overly comfortable, it opens doors that need to be opened so that you can integrate into whatever it is you are meant to do in this life. When the North Node is being active through transit or progression, the South Node is also being activated, because they are always exactly opposite one another.

When we speak of the Sextile aspect between transiting Pluto and the natal North Node, the path forward is going through major transformational energies. We will be pushed toward our foundational pathway often because of powerful energies. Under this aspect, our life mission becomes clearer, and we understand from a deeper perspective the path for our mission in life. There is seldom halfway measure during this aspect and change is not only apparent but necessary. We are ready, even if we are not quite sure where this will take us.

Any old, outdated habits are now left behind to make way for our new path. We move consciously and sometimes unconsciously into our own personal power and open the door for new insights.

Sometimes we may meet individuals that help pave the way forward. They may be quite influential and guide us with our new-found power. There may be some struggles if we fight this process.

The sign and house position of our North Node along with the house Pluto is transiting will provide information in the manner this aspect developments. These are the areas of life being transformed. The sign of the North Node defines what path we are meant to take and what that path may look like.
