

NEPTUNE CONJUNCT NATAL MERCURY

We are currently focused on Neptune is in its own natural sign of Pisces.

Its energies while in Pisces work well to build a mystical practice for yourself. Neptune is the planet of mystical insight, spiritual enlightenment, and psychic perception.

At present, many individuals are experiencing a mystical unfolding that they have not experienced previously. Much of what is taking place could be attributed to the alignment of Neptune in Pisces it's rulership. It will remain in its own sign until 2025, so we have ample time to unravel its subconscious undertones.

Neptune is also known as the planet of illusion, so it is important to keep at least one foot on the ground, although imagination sparks many wondrous inspirational insights. It is important to find a balance between the two as you can be led astray during Neptune's visit in Pisces or its influence in your birth chart. Much will depend on what aspects Neptune will be making in your natal chart as well as what house it is transiting.

When connected to Mercury by conjunction and in the sign of Pisces, the mental processing may be highly linked to spiritual unfolding. Mercury, the planet of the mind, needs stimulation to become reflective and it takes on the energies of anything that touches it. Those with Mercury in Pisces in the birth chart are more than likely interconnected to the higher consciousness vibrating in our world currently and they will know that there is more to life than working, sleeping, and eating. Many of these individuals are of a higher conscious mind but some are also led astray by their imagination, although for most of these individuals the desire for something deeper is a major part of their lives. It is certainly acceptable to remain open to stimuli and this may be particularly so with these individuals currently under this influence.

This would be the time to become acquainted with your higher self and to find ways to connect to your loved ones that have passed over, if this is what you wish to do with these energies.

For those that have a creative streak, this is also a time for creative writing, working with music and dance or theatrical work. The mind is quite open during this influence and one can receive and can use these energies in spiritual work such as automatic writing under this influence. Again, much depends on the placement of Neptune and your aptitude regarding this type of inflow of energy. If Neptune is in the third house for example, this could be the time to write that creative novel, or in the ninth house, it might be time to publish your work.

It is important not to get lost in this energy and to remain focused. It would be beneficial, if for example, you have a strong Saturn to offer some stability and rational. Letting go is suggested. If you are still connected to the earth plane, however, we do have to carry on in this material world.

Life can become magical and mysterious as the door begins to open. We just must have faith in ourselves and allow the process to unfold as much can be revealed.
