

SATURN SEXTILE NATAL NORTH NODE

When deciphering the information in this article, the placement of the North Node and South Node in your astrology chart will be extremely important. The North Node has to do with what we have come into this incarnation to learn from, achieve, and build on, and the South Node speaks of what we should let go of and what is comfortable for us (this is determined by the sign and house position).

When Transiting Saturn makes a Sextile to your Natal North Node, it also makes a Trine to your Natal South Node. This can be a time of great opportunities when it comes to your path forward. You may find that your eyes are finally open to what the next step might be as move forward through life lessons seen as adverse or a slow progress forward (again related to the energies associated with the North Node's positioning).

An example might be for someone who has a North Node in Aries (and therefore a South Node of Libra). This would encompass the need to step forward with your own ambitions. It must be personal although others might be affected as well. The time has come to recognize your personal ambitions and to press forward to fulfill them. With the North Node in Aries in our example, you cannot rely on others to do the work for you (which would likely have been the case in a previous lifetime, or you might have been so tied up in helping others prior to this lifetime that it seems almost out of character to move towards something that suits your personal needs).

With the South Node in Libra, continuing with this configuration example (NN in Aries, SN in Libra), in the past, you were always in the shadows of what was taking place. Now, your objectives must be met and with the example South Node, you may be able to use your compassionate and diplomatic nature to assist in maintaining this process that is required. You have ideas on how to maneuver your way forward but a part of you wants to do this for others, when in fact you need to do this for yourself first. Others will likely benefit over time, but you must advance for your own benefit first and foremost.

Saturn may make this progress a little more difficult because it insists that we work diligently for our rewards. You will have to put in the work required to achieve your objectives and do not let any negativity delay the process.

Saturn sextile Natal North Node is energy for you personally! The harder you work towards your goals, the greater the chance of success. The effort and the prolonged period will be worth it. Keep pushing forward even when there seems to be obstacles in the way.

Perseverance will pay off over the long haul and if Saturn should go into retrograde during the time span, you will have several opportunities before you finalize what it is you may be pushing towards.
