

JUPITER TRINE NATAL MOON

Jupiter while in Transit, moves through the full Zodiac every 12 years. When it makes a Trine to your Natal Moon, the house and sign position of the Moon in the birth chart must be examined carefully before taking into consideration the sign that Transiting Jupiter is moving through.

The house that Transiting Jupiter is moving through is an area that has potential for growth and positive expansion. This house, in turn, will exemplify the energies dictated by the Moon's position.

If the Natal Moon is in a Water sign the potential for development and growth will be in the area of emotional sensitivity often connected to psychic potential or your insights are enhanced. Intuition is often strong with clear and concise recognition of these abilities.

If the Natal Moon is in Earth signs, and depending on the Moon's position in the natal chart by house, Jupiter will bring good fortune and expanded opportunities when it comes to personal development from an emotional perspective in areas connected with achievement especially in the material sense. Opportunities and easy flow may be affiliated in matters related to business or material acquisition. Someone may notice your achievements and perhaps wish to align or help you in attaining more recognition. The possibilities can be endless.

If your Moon is in an Air sign, you may find that your mental reasoning and ideology may be enhanced. You may be able to figure out complex issues that have held you back in the past and now you seem to know exactly what to do. You may perhaps be thinking about a course you want to take or a book that you want to publish. Now, under this aspect, all of your ducks seem to line up perfectly.

If your Moon is in a Fire sign, perhaps you may feel motivated to go ahead with your personal endeavors and move ahead with resilience and extra energy that was not in place prior to this aspect. You seem to be firing on all cylinders and there is a push to advance. Now is the time to move on your goals.

Transiting Jupiter Trine Natal Moon suggests that your emotional reaction to life events is likely more promising than it might have been in the recent past. Much of who you are, from an emotional perspective, is heightened. You can use these emotional interactions to advance your causes. Now is a good time, depending on the rest of the chart, of course, to get more in touch with your feelings and understand them from a philosophical perspective. Religious inclinations and spiritual insight are often enhanced under this influence. Use these energies, as they will not be presented regularly.
